In 2017, 12AM embarked on a 22 show European tour, opening for American rapper, Watsky, and fellow friend, Jez dior. After a year hiatus due to the loss of his mother in her 10 year battle with cancer, 12AM is back with an EP releases Q4 2019.

The first single and music video for 2019 “Can’t Love” marked his biggest success. New Music Friday US & Canada placements along with R&B Now, New Music Now, Just Vibing and Posty’s Playlist (Post Malone’s Official Playlist) the song has done over 2 million streams in the span of 3 months across all platforms

After the release 12 performed alongside Internet Money’s Trevor Daniel & Iann Dior selling out the Peppermint Club. 12Am recently signed his publishing to Primary Wave & Juan Madrid, as well as locking an EP deal with SNAFU Records (Carl Falk) & Caroline (Capitol). The 5 song EP will be released Q4 2019.

The future looks incredibly bright for the young singer as 12AM’s passion and pain shine through his music-making and his one of a kind story.
