Dante Jones is a producer, writer, and artist originally from Aurora, CO and now residing in Los Angeles. He is one half of R&B duo THEY. with Drew Love. THEY.'s 2020 album The Amanda Tape featured artists like Tinashe, Wale, and Juicy J, while their previous EP Fireside featured Wiz Khalifa, Jessie Reyez, Jeremih, Vic Mensa, Gallant, and Ty Dolla $ign. In 2023, THEY. released Nü Moon, a collection of their most introspective songs to date with Kacey Musgraves, blackbear, Yung Bleu, Bino Rideaux, and Fana Hues lending their vocals.

As a producer and writer, Dante is influenced by iconic R&B acts like Prince and Bobby Brown, but also by the 90s alternative and hip-hop scenes. He enjoys working across genres from hip hop, to pop, to indie/alternative, to R&B. He has recently been in the studio working with Pink Sweat$, Jessie Murph, JID, Sabrina Carpenter, Maeta, Livvi Franc, Los Hendrix, Chloe George, Kacey Musgraves, Imad Royal, Duckwrth, Thutmose, and Peach Tree Rascals. He has cuts out with Emotional Oranges, Alina Baraz, Khalid, 6LACK, blackbear, Chris Brown, and Tori Kelly.
