From their breakout album through today, Gin Blossoms has sold over 10 million records. In 2017, Rolling Stone Magazine declared the band excels “at marrying world-weary lyrics with ebullient melodies.” The band’s fusion of Pop, Melodic Rock, Folk and Country elements took the airwaves by siege, making the band an MTV playlist hostage for almost a decade, and the group a natural 90’s mainstay.

Gin Blossoms current members: Bill Leen, Jesse Valenzuela, Robin Wilson, and Scott Johnson, Scott Hessel. Past members include former drummer Phil Rhodes and founding member and principal songwriter for many of the band’s early hits, Doug Hopkins who passed in 1993.
